Here's Your Pound of Coffee, Madam!

Here's Your 100 Grains of Caffeine, Doctor!

Same Drug—Different Form

More and more, it is becoming common knowledge that an ordinary cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine, an irritating drug.

Because of this drug, coffee drinking frequently races the heart, interferes with digestion, upsets the nerves, and leaves one weakened and depressed. As a drug, caffeine has medicinal value, but only when administered by competent physicians.

If constant use of coffee, with its drug content, agrees with you, why—keep right on—no one should object.

But—thousands of people have rid themselves of coffee troubles, and experienced wonderful improvement in health by changing to

WONDERFUL HELP GIVEN SICK LADY IN RECORD TIME

Ailing Lady Gives Inter-State Doctors Praise.

SUFFERED FROM COMPLICATION

Had Formerly Treated With Three Other Doctors Without Being Helped.

"I have been ill for the past two years, my lungs were weak, my heart bothered me, I had a constant cough, indigestion and was constipated and though I treated with three other physicians, I got no relief whatever until I went to the Inter-State Doctors."

Miss Mrs. J. A. Reed of No. 5 South street, South Cumberland, Md.

Mrs. Reed continued: "Though I had not got a particle of relief from the other physicians, it was not two weeks before I began to have very definite results with the Inter-State doctors who have their Connellsville Medical Institute on the second floor of the Citizens National Bank Building at the corner of Pittsburg and Apple streets, opposite the Aaron furniture store. My cough now is entirely gone, I no longer have night sweats, my heart rarely bothers me, my indigestion is now gone and I sleep grand, get good rest from my sleep and feel about well. I must say this is more actual help than I have had from all the other doctors combined."

All these wonderful results were obtained with less than two months' treatment and I advise all sufferers to go to the Inter-State Doctors for treatment."

The Inter-State Doctors treat among other ailments, chronic and deep seated diseases of the nerves, blood, heart, liver, kidneys, bladder, spine, brain, also rheumatism, catarrhs, gonorrhea, gleet, indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, rupture, weak lungs, recent troubles, neuralgia, catarrhs, asthma, deafness, dropsy, eczema, skin and other diseases of women and diseases of men.

The daily office hours of the Inter-State Doctors are from 9 A. M. to 12 noon; 1:30 P. M. to 5:30 P. M. and evenings 7 to 8 daily. Sunday hours are from 9 A. M. to 12 noon only.

Sick and ailing people cannot do other than consult the Inter-State Doctors at their excellent opportunity.

Hundreds and hundreds of people in and about the section have praised publicly the Inter-State Doctors for the benefits given them with the new treatment—there are additional hundreds taking treatment. With the tremendous number of people now taking treatment and those who have taken treatment the proof is evident that results count—and the Inter-State Doctors' treatment attracts those who found no relief under old or obsolete methods of treatment.—Adv.

Standard Remedy For Many Homes

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions closely related and the cause of much physical suffering. The tendency to indigestion and constipation is general, so that most people suffer at some time or another from indigestion and constipation. A simple, pleasant, effective remedy that will quickly relieve the congestion of poisonous waste and restore regularity, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with peppermint oil in a dainty, palatable form. This is the Standard Remedy for Many Homes. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 152 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Generators installed. Two Theatres to Use New System for Film Illumination.

Generators through the use of which it is possible to get direct current in projecting machines, thereby saving much better light than by the use of alternating current, have been installed in two moving picture houses during the past week. City Electrician A. J. Buttermore has equipped the booths of the Solomon and Globe theatres with the machines.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

If Feverish, Bilious, Constipated, Give Fruit Laxative at Once.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, brachy bad, but not sleeping, out sleep or not naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and cheerful child again.

Children love this harmless "fruit laxative" and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "impulse" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, mother. A little given today saves much sorrow tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contentment any other fig syrup—Adv.

THE GRIM REAPER.

JOSEPH GRAY.

Joseph Gray, 69 years old, a well known resident of Connelville, died this morning at his home on Gallatin avenue. Last New Year's Mr. Gray suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he never fully recovered. Mr. Gray was born in Durham, England, November 26, 1845, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray. When he was eight years old he came to this country with his parents who located in Lenoir, Md. After residing there for some time the family moved to Meyersdale and about 30 years ago came to Connelville. Forty-eight years ago he married Miss Louisa, Md., to Miss Catherine Wyland. To the union 12 children were born, the following of whom survive: John G. of East Connelville; Jerry and Joseph E., of Connelville; Misses Jane, Isabelle, Elizabeth and Ella, at home. His widow and one sister, Mrs. Cyrus Wyland of Lenoir, also survive.

MONEY-MAKING HABITS. How They Are Acquired and How Helpful They Are.

Money-making habits are the result of diligent earning and constant saving. Don't let a week go by without earning a little. The saving habit comes from constantly spending and the saving habit is acquired by constantly saving money, little or much as the case may be. A fortune can easily be made when you have the saving habit. The Citizens National Bank will help you. 128 Pittsburg street—Adv.

John Arcene Orchestra. Word from Dr. F. C. Allen's private hospital in Philadelphia is to the effect that Dr. T. H. Hays is improving nicely.

Ray Parker, formerly violinist of the Mason Symphony Orchestra, at Marion, Ga., has joined the Arcene Theatre orchestra.

Heroes in the Trenches. PARIS, March 17.—Three men in the trenches must keep incessant vigilance against sudden attacks by the enemy. The men who serve the artillery day and night are often times at an enemy that is never seen.

Medical science will save more lives this year than war will take, no matter how terribly murderous that war may be. Then, too, the food supply is very carefully looked after by the commissariat. The food supply of the soldiers must be wholesome. Living in the open air, the men are able to digest hard-baked and greasy food. Soldiers must have a good stomach. A man with a weak stomach is pretty sure to be a poor fighter. It is difficult—almost impossible—for anyone, man or woman, if digestion is poor, to succeed in business or socially—or to enjoy life. In tablet or liquid form, Dr. F. C. Allen's Medical Discovery helps weak stomachs to strong, healthy action—helps them to digest the food that makes the good, rich, red blood which nourishes the entire body.

This vegetable remedy, to a great extent, puts the liver into activity, cleans the machinery of the human system so that those who spend their working hours at the desk, behind the counter, or in the home are rejuvenated into vigorous health.

It has brought relief to many thousands every year for nearly 50 years. It can relieve you and doubtless restore your former health and strength. At least you owe it to yourself to give it a trial. Sold by medicine dealers or send 50 cents for box of tablets—Dr. Pierce's Invalid Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

You can have Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser of 1103 pages in cloth binding, fully illustrated with colored plates, for 3 dimes or 30 cents. Read all about yourself, your system, the physiology of life, sex problems, marriage relations, anatomy, hygiene, exercise, disease and its prevention, simple home cures, etc.—Adv.

DEAD HORSES IN DEMAND. Vanues Mill Soap Maker Bents Garbage Company to Careless.

Competition with the garbage company for dead horses has developed recently, a soap manufacturer from Vanues Mills having put in a bid for a carcass last week and got away with it successfully, though efforts were made by the officers of the company to have him arrested for violation of the garbage ordinance.

A horse belonging to Simon P. Hay became ill and it was necessary to shoot it. Before dispatching it the owner asked the garbage company to take care of the carcass. It is said that the owner was dishonestly weighed the amount asked and finally arranged to haul it to the plant himself and pay $3 for its incineration. In the meantime the soap manufacturer came along and offered to pay for the horse in the carcass. His offer was accepted and a team was sent to haul it away.

Efforts were made to secure the driver's arrest, but the police refused to intervene.

Girl Goes to Jail. Marie Daulton, the "Mount Pleasant Kid," created considerable excitement in Uniontown last night, when arrested. After a hard struggle, she was finally locked up, but it was necessary to confine her to the county jail.

Dr. Bailey Goes East. Dr. W. J. Bailey, who has been a victim of grip for the past week, left last night for Philadelphia to consult a physician. He will be absent for several days.

If Feverish, Bilious, Constipated, Give Fruit Laxative at Once.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, brachy bad, but not sleeping, out sleep or not naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and cheerful child again.

Children love this harmless "fruit laxative" and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "impulse" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, mother. A little given today saves much sorrow tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contentment any other fig syrup—Adv.

THE GRIM REAPER.

JOSEPH GRAY.

Joseph Gray, 69 years old, a well known resident of Connelville, died this morning at his home on Gallatin avenue. Last New Year's Mr. Gray suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he never fully recovered. Three weeks ago he was taken ill of erysipelas and later was the victim of a second stroke, death resulting. Funeral services will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock from the home and on Friday morning funeral Director C. C. Mitchell will ship the body to Meyersdale for interment.

Mr. Gray was born in Durham, England, November 26, 1845, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray. When he was eight years old he came to this country with his parents who located in Lenoir, Md. After residing there for some time the family moved to Meyersdale and about 30 years ago came to Connelville. Forty-eight years ago he married Miss Louisa, Md., to Miss Catherine Wyland. To the union 12 children were born, the following of whom survive: John G. of East Connelville; Jerry and Joseph E., of Connelville; Misses Jane, Isabelle, Elizabeth and Ella, at home. His widow and one sister, Mrs. Cyrus Wyland of Lenoir, also survive.

Mr. Gray was an installment agent for a number of years. He was a member of the Methodist Church at Lenoir.

Mrs. MARTHA ELMIRA SCOTT, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Shiller, near Morris Cross Roads. She was the widow of Major A. W. Scott and a daughter of George and Martha Brown (Gans) members of an early family of this section. Mrs. Scott was born and grew up in the township of Lebanon, Pa. She was a life-long member of the Oak Grove Christian Church. She leaves one son, Mr. Brownfield Scott of Pittsburg, two daughters, Mrs. Marion R. Geer of Hancock county, W. Va., and Mrs. John C. Shiller of Morris Cross Roads. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon.

JOHN CONNELL, for a long time a familiar figure about the city, died at the county house yesterday. He was sent to the institution some months ago. During the summer he could always be seen in the doorway of the house tower at city hall. When the weather got cold he was a regular lodger in the basement of the same building. How he managed to elude an existence was a mystery.

So far as is known, the aged man had no relatives in this section except Matthew Welsh of Uniontown, a nephew.

Mrs. Anna Sager, 83 years old, mother of Mrs. J. S. Showers, wife of Rev. Showers, pastor of the United Brethren Church, died last night at her home in Waterloo, Ontario, Canada. Mrs. Showers will leave tonight for Waterloo. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon.

Generators installed. Two Theatres to Use New System for Film Illumination.

Generators through the use of which it is possible to get direct current in projecting machines, thereby saving much better light than by the use of alternating current, have been installed in two moving picture houses during the past week. City Electrician A. J. Buttermore has equipped the booths of the Solomon and Globe theatres with the machines.

Colonel T. H. Hays was the first to install such a generator. The results were so satisfactory that the other houses have followed suit. It is claimed that current consumption is reduced, in addition to obtaining a more satisfactory light.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy—Adv.

DEAD HORSES IN DEMAND. Vanues Mill Soap Maker Bents Garbage Company to Careless.

Competition with the garbage company for dead horses has developed recently, a soap manufacturer from Vanues Mills having put in a bid for a carcass last week and got away with it successfully, though efforts were made by the officers of the company to have him arrested for violation of the garbage ordinance.

A horse belonging to Simon P. Hay became ill and it was necessary to shoot it. Before dispatching it the owner asked the garbage company to take care of the carcass. It is said that the owner was dishonestly weighed the amount asked and finally arranged to haul it to the plant himself and pay $3 for its incineration. In the meantime the soap manufacturer came along and offered to pay for the horse in the carcass. His offer was accepted and a team was sent to haul it away.

Efforts were made to secure the driver's arrest, but the police refused to intervene.

Two Bills for Better Business

When an employer finds that the machines that he has provided for his employees hinder rather than help them in their work, he loses no time in throwing out those machines. His instant need is for other machines that will do the work better.

Such is the present situation in regard to the Full Crew—"excess man crew"—Laws. You citizens of New Jersey and Pennsylvania have found that the cumbersome machinery of these laws causes a waste of two million dollars a year in unearned wages and seriously impairs the efficiency of your employees, the railroads of your States. Agreed that it is high time to be rid of this wasteful machinery, your need now is for something to take its place that will do the work better.

In the Legislatures of both your States bills have been introduced putting the control of the proper manning of trains in the proper hands—those of the Public Service Commissions. If these bills are passed they will do all that the Full Crew Laws were intended to do—insure safe and efficient train operation—without the present huge waste.

As a straightaway business proposition, the immediate passing of these bills is a pressing public necessity. Write to your elected Representatives at Harrisburg and Trenton, urging them to work and vote for these sorely needed bills.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food elements. In changing seasons food elements are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements.

This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's medicinal fats, so skillfully prepared that the blood profits from every drop, and it is free from harmful drugs or alcohol.

A SAFE WAY TO STOP INDIGESTION

Without Fear of Wrecking the Stomach; Works Fine in Any Case and Brings Relief in Ten Minutes.

The greatest folly of today is committed by people with weak dyspeptic stomachs who take artificial dietetics to cure indigestion. Artificial dietetics—popsin pills, etc.—simply encourage a lazy or tired out stomach to slack its work by doing most of its work for it. This is true for a time but as every chronic dyspeptic knows, artificial dietetics soon lose their effect. Where one once did the trick three or four times are now required and the poor old stomach itself is worse off than ever.

Your stomach must be strong enough to expand and contract with a sort of churning movement so as to mix its digestive juices with your food. If your stomach isn't strong enough to properly churn your food, you will keep right on having indigestion after every meal until you make it strong.

There is one stomach remedy that every dyspeptic can depend on as surely as that the sun will rise tomorrow and that is the famous old MIO-SNA Stomach Tablets. Most stomach remedies let the stomach rest and digest the food themselves. Mio-sna won't digest anything, but it will strengthen and stimulate the stomach and make it do its own digesting. It stops stomach pains, gas, bloating, burning, belching, etc., in 10 minutes and does still better by making the flabby, inflamed and inactive stomach walls grow strong and elastic and able to do their own churning. Mio-sna Tablets never lose their effect and unlike more artificial dietetics need not be used forever. A few weeks use is generally sufficient to put any stomach in fine shape and A. A. Clarke and many other leading druggists hereabouts sell it with that understanding agreeing to refund money to anyone who does not get complete relief—Adv.

SAYS NO ONE NEED
REMAIN THIN NOW

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak, nervous and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised fad diets, food-fads, physical culture, stunts and patent exercises, resign themselves to life-long sickness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness and is also upon the way to repairing the waste of delicate and fatty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Its strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this powerful preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are provided. All leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and stimulant, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh—Adv.

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not constipate, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They ease the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—such headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"It is an uncommonly attractive gown," said I.

"Shall we not tomorrow for the treasure quest?"

"Tomorrow is Sunday."

"Can you think of a better way to kill it?"

"Yes, you might have me down here for an old-fashioned midday dinner."

"Capital! Why not stay for supper, too?"

"It would be too much like spending a day with relatives," she said. "We'll go treasure hunting on Monday. I haven't the faintest notion where to look, but that shouldn't make any difference. No one else ever had. By the way, Mr. Smart, I have a bone to pick with you. Have you seen yesterday's paper? Well, in one of them there is a long account of my—of Mr. Pless' visit to your estate, and a lengthy interview in which you are quoted as saying that he is one of your dearest friends, and a much maligned man who deserves the sympathy of every law-abiding citizen in the land."

"An admirable lie!" I cried indignantly.

"Another paper says that your fortune has been placed at his disposal in the night he is making against the criminal article in your paper. In this particular article you are quoted as saying that I am a dreadful person and not fit to have the custody of a child."

"Good Lord!" I gasped helplessly.

"You also expect to do everything in your power to interest the administration at Washington in his behalf."

"Well, of all the Oh-Oh, I say, countess, you don't believe a word of all this, do you?"

"She regarded me pensively. 'You have said some very mean, unkind things to me.'"

"If I thought you believed!" I began desperately, but her sudden smile relieved me of the necessity of jumping into the river. "My love, I shall write to these miserable sheets, deny every word they've printed. And when more, I'll have an action for damages against all of 'em. Why, it is positively atrocious! The whole world will think I despise you and—I stopped very abruptly in great confusion."

"And—you don't?" she queried, with real seriousness in her voice. "You don't despise me?"

"Certainly not!" I cried vehemently. Turning to Poppendyke, I said: "Mr. Poppendyke, will you at once prepare a complete and emphatic denial of every word they have printed about me, and I'll send it to all the American correspondents in Europe. We'll cable it ourselves to the United States. I shan't rest until I am set straight in the eyes of my fellow countrymen. The whole world shall know, countess, that I am for you first, last and all the time. It shall know!"

"But you don't know who I am, Mr. Smart," she broke in, her cheeks very warm and rosy. "How can you publicly espouse the cause of one whose name you refuse to have mentioned in your presence?"

"I dismissed her question with a wave of the hand. 'Poppendyke can supply the name after I have signed the statement. I give him carte blanche.' The name has nothing to do with the case so far as I am concerned. Write it, Fred, and make it strong."

"She came up to me and held out her hand. 'I know you would do it,' she said softly. 'Thanks.'"

"She not only came for dinner with us on Sunday, but made the dinner."

for my alligator pear salad. We were besieged by the usual crowd of Sunday sightseers, who came clamoring at our stanch, reinforced gates and mathematized me soundly for refusing admission. One bourgeois party of fifteen refused to leave the piazza until their return fares on the ferry barge were paid, stoutly maintaining that they had come over in good faith and wouldn't leave until I had returned them to the extent of 50 hellers apiece, ferry fare. I went Britton out with this money. He returned with the rather disquieting news that he had recognized two of Mr. Pless' secret agents in the mob.

"I wonder if he suspects that I am here," said the countess, pulling perceptibly when I mentioned the presence of the two men.

"I did not sleep well that night. The presence of the two detectives outside my gates was not to be taken too lightly."

CHAPTER XIV.
I AM invited to Spend Money.

THE NEXT morning at 9 o'clock the next morning a fly faced man in an overalls accosted me in the hall.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Smart," he said in fairly good English. "May I have a word with you? I have a message from Mr. Pless. I am an agent of the secret service. Yesterday I failed to gain admission as a visitor, today I come as a laborer."

"Is it necessary for Mr. Pless to resort to a subterfuge of this character in order to get a message to me?" I demanded indignantly.

"It was not necessary yesterday, but it is today," said he. He leaned close and lowered his voice. "Our every movement is being watched by the countess' detectives. We are obliged to resort to trickery to throw them off the scent. Mr. Pless has read what you had to say in the newspapers, and he is too grateful, sir, to subject you to unnecessary annoyance at the hands of her agents. He would have you to meet him secretly tonight at the Itomaf hotel across the river. It is most important that you should do so and that you should exercise great caution, I am to take your reply back to him."

For an instant I was fairly stupefied. Then I experienced a feeling of relief so vast that he must have won the gleam of triumph in my eyes. The trick was mine, after all.

"You may tell Mr. Pless that I shall be there at 9," said I. The agent departed. When he was safely out of the room I explained the situation to Poppendyke and then made my way through the secret passage to the countess' rooms.

She was ready for the subterranean journey in quest of treasure attired in a neat walking skirt, with her bonny hair encased in a swimming cap as a guard against cobwebs.

"Then you don't intend to send out the statements?" she cried in disappointment. "You are going to let every one think you are his friend and not mine?"

"I stood over her, trying my best to soothe. 'You know better than that. You know I—I am as loyal as—can be. Hang it all!' I burst out impulsively. 'Do you suppose for a minute that I want to hand you over to that infernal rascal now that I've come to this? Is it to say, now that we're such ripping good friends?'"

"She looked up at me very pathetically at first. Then her expression changed swiftly to one of wonder and the most penetrating inquiry. Slowly a flush crept into her cheeks, and her eyes wavered."

"I—I think I can trust you to—to do the right thing by me," she said, descending to a humility in her confusion.

I held out my hand. She laid hers in it rather timidly, almost as if she was afraid of me. "I shall not fail you," said I without the faintest intention to be heroic, but immediately conscious of having used an expression so trite that my cheek flamed with humiliation.

For some unaccountable reason she arose hastily from the chair and walked to the window. A similar reason no doubt held me rooted rather safely to the spot on which I stood. I have a vague recollection of feeling dizzy and rather short of breath. My heart was racing quickly.

"Why do you suppose he wants to see you?" she asked after a moment, turning toward me again. She was as calm as a summer breeze. All trace of nervousness had left her.

"I can't even supply a guess."

"You must be very, very tactful," she said merrily. "I know him so well. He is very cunning."

"You may trust me implicitly to do the right thing," said I benignly. "And now what do you say to our trip to the bottom of the castle?"

She shook her head. "Not with the house full of spies, my dear friend. We'll have that for another day. A rainy day perhaps. I feel like having all the sunshine I can get today. To-night I shall be gloomy and very lonely. I shall take Rosemary and Jinks out upon the top of the tower and play all day in the sun."

"I had an idea. 'I am sure I should enjoy a little sunshine myself. May I come too?'"

She looked me straight in the eye. There was a touch of dignity in her voice when she spoke.

"Not today, Mr. Smart."

A most unfatigable person!

BOROUGHES ARE AFFECTED

Bill Proposes the Election of Nine Councilmen at Large.

Among the many bills introduced at this session of the Legislature is a number which, if passed, will materially affect a number of officers in boroughs throughout the state. One of these is that providing that a burgess of a borough shall be eligible to the office for the next succeeding term.

Senate bill No. 215, introduced March 2, reduces the number of councilmen in a borough to five, elected at large. Two of these are to be elected for two years, and three for four years, their terms to commence on the first Monday of January, 1916. Thereafter each councilman shall be elected to serve four years. The same act establishes the salary of burgesses in towns of 5,000 or less at $75 a year, and in those with more than 5,000 they are to receive $100 a year.

Another House bill implements the act of 1913, providing for the election of a controller in all boroughs of the state and abolishing the office of borough auditors. The duties of the controller as set forth are to audit the accounts of all departments annually and report to the county prothonotary within 60 days of the beginning of the fiscal year. Appeals from his audit may be taken within 10 days of its filing. The salary of the controller is to be not more than $750 a year in boroughs of not less than 5,000 population; not more than $500 in boroughs of 2,500 or less, and $300 a year in boroughs of 2,500 or less.

BLIGHT OF TARIFF SHOWN IN REPORT OF STEEL CONCERN

Staggering Lessons for Tinkerers in Lackawanna's Figures.

WORST YEAR IN ITS HISTORY

Prices Low and Idleness of Employees
Amounts to Victim of a Big Wage Reduction. Although Labor was Paid on a Higher Basis than Ever Before.

That the effects and explanation of the causes of the 1914 depression in the iron and steel industry, the Lackawanna Steel Company's annual report for the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1914, contains a startling lesson for tinkerers of the Wilson-Underwood-Stimmons tariff law—if any remain outside of Washington.

The report shows a deficit for the year, after all expenses and appropriations of $1,652,111, which compares with a profit in 1913 of $1,525,418; gross sales and earnings totaled $18,241,630, compared with $20,879,265. The company charged off $254,788 to depreciation, an amount of $1,210,015 in 1913. $296,518 was added to the sinking fund for extinguishing mines and mining investments, compared with $152,189 last year. The total surplus as of Dec. 31, 1914, was $5,777,152, as against $11,876,700 Dec. 31, 1913, a loss for the year of $1,737,112. So much for the effects of the depression as reflected in Lackawanna's earnings account.

President E. A. S. Clarke briefly refers to the causes of the depression in his remarks to stockholders, as follows:

"The results of the year 1914 are the worst the steel trade of the United States has known since your company has been in operation. The new tariff which began toward the end of 1913 to influence prices downward, through possibility of foreign competition, kept them during 1914 at a low level, having regard to the increases in cost of production due to higher cost of labor and taxes as well as to the high possibility of current needs. The outbreak of the war in Europe prevented the improvement which it was expected might follow the wonderful crop yield, and the granting of increased rates to the railroads while continuing to show that the Interstate Commerce Commission recognizes that these great public utilities must be permitted to earn a fair return on their investment, came late to have much effect on the business of 1914.

"This situation is strongly reflected in the results of your company's operations. Shipments are with one exception the lowest in its history; the average price of $18.08 per gross ton received for the materials shipped is $2.26 less than in the preceding year, and the deficit, at $226,171.51 greater than that of 1913, the only other year in which your company has shown a deficit.

"Such a situation is abnormal considering the large amounts spent on additions and improvements to your plants and properties and the economies resulting therefrom; but the explanation lies in the fact that prices received per gross ton were $2.55 less than in 1913, while rates of wages paid averaged about 11 per cent higher and were maintained at this level throughout the industry in spite of the reduced volume of business. Yet most of your employees, owing to working but little over half of the normal time, still had a loss of income equivalent to a very drastic reduction in rates of wages.

"Orders on hand have increased since January 1; the outlook is for a continuing increase during the balance of the first six months and it is hoped that the year 1915 will show improvement over 1914.

"Your company received during 1914, from mines which it owns, or is interested in, or from other sources, 625,569 gross tons of iron ore and produced a total of 552,761 gross tons of coke and 199,119 gross tons of pig iron. It also produced 115,175 gross tons of Bessemer fluid steel and 535,861 gross tons of open hearth ingots, a total of 652,946 gross tons of steel in all kinds.

DEMONSTRATION

Hall-Borchert ad- justable dress Forms.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

There is only one kind of dress form truly useful—the adjustable form made by Hall-Borchert Co.

Other kinds that merely extend, simply enlarge; the Hall-Borchert forms reproduce the irregularities of any
domens.

The Hall-Borchert form is a perfect substitute for all the women in the family; and it is indispensable in fashionable dressmaking establishments. It saves time, labor and money; not to speak of wear and weariness to fitter and fitter. Such a form simplifies dress making.
Easy home dressmaking means more dresses, exacting fit and a lower clothing expense.

See it Demonstrated and you will see its advantages instantly; and once in your possession, nothing would induce you to part with it. It is good for years and years of service, and will pay for itself in a short time. Think of the ease and pleasure of making and altering your own clothes with the help of this wonderful form; think how exactly it will reproduce your own figure! This is an opportunity no woman can afford to miss—and a decided Wright-Metzler service in having the display come here.

"THE EDUCATION OF MR. PIPP."
The celebrated comedian, Digby Bell, will appear today at the Soisson Theatre in the five part comedy drama, "The Education of Mr. Pipp." It is a clever American comedy based upon Charles Dana Gibson's famous drawings under that title. "The Curse of the Desert" is a two reel film drama with Grace Gunard and Francis Ford in the leading roles. The Joker comedy "Saved by a Shower" is a little fun now and then. The Animated Weekly has some very fine subjects that are highly interesting. Tomorrow J. Warren Kerrigan will appear in a two reel Victor drama, "Smoldering Fires." A two reel Le-Ko comedy, "The Evening Dancer," with Billie Ritchie, will also be shown.
